

The background of the entire image is a light-colored wood grain pattern. It consists of several vertical planks separated by thin, dark vertical lines. Each plank has a distinct wood grain with various knots and swirls. Small, dark, circular spots are scattered across the planks, resembling knots or small holes. The overall texture is natural and organic.

Dr. Raymond Olson
President-California Lutheran College

For those who are identified with this college there is an imprint on us, a hallmark.
We have an identity from the past which tells us a great deal of what we are and what we believe we are meant to be.

We carry a hope that the Christian college can always be turning on light so as to help academic citizens to grasp more completely what is to be done with knowledge after you know.

When we attempt to describe what we are doing here
as a college,
or expect to do,
we are inclined to say that you need to understand the horizons with which we live . . .
which are not made of mountains and sky, but which sketch out
and around in the world, ideas, concepts,
purpose and convictions.

We seek to understand ourselves before God,
before our church,
and before our neighbors.

Sure, we've grown this year, too. . .

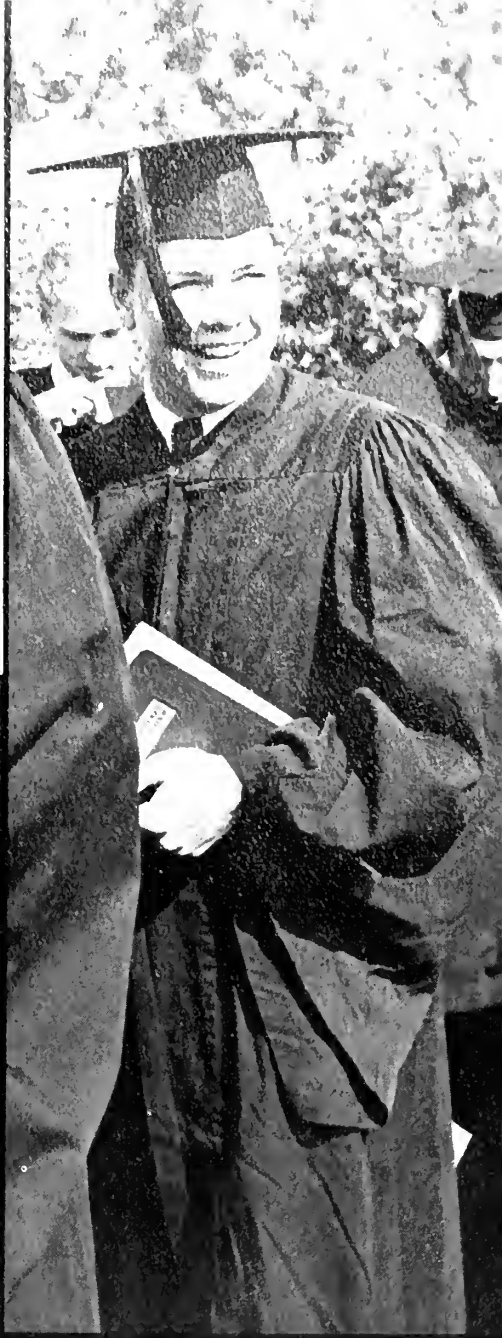

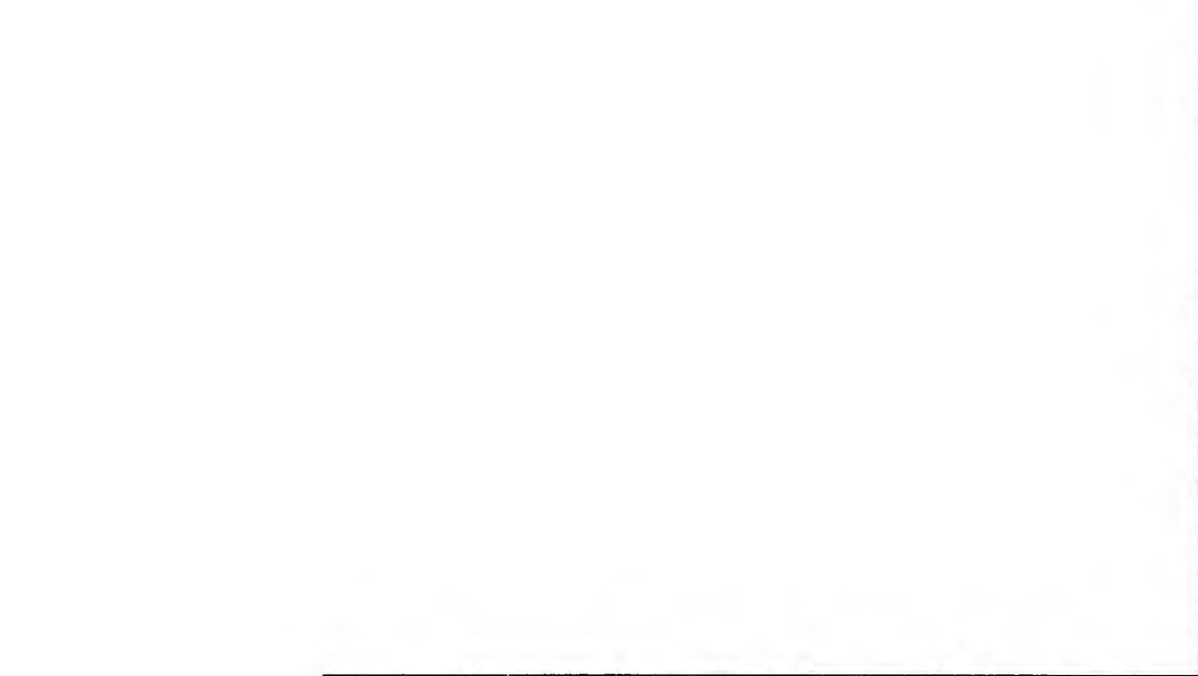

But why not. . .

. . . when we each give a little.

An end. . .a beginning.

"Summon your sons and daughters, your banners and flags unfold . . .
. . . Your love of freedom cherish, your love of truth prevail, Your love of Christus merit, ALMA MATER hail, All hail, All, hail!"
